

Safety and Health for Business

A new Level 3 qualification for a new generation of safety and health professionals

“The world’s only Chartered safety and health professional body now offers its own qualification route to membership”

Invest in the future of safety and health

The Ofqual-regulated Level 3 Certificate in Safety and Health for Business has been developed by IOSH in collaboration with awarding body NCFE. It is cost-effective, time-efficient, regulated and highly relevant for businesses.

It has been designed with employers for employers to meet their needs and grow the knowledge and soft skills their managers, supervisors and up-and-coming safety and health professionals require. This distinctive business-relevant qualification has been developed with input from leading organisations and thought-leaders across key sectors worldwide.

Safety and Health for Business is taught in flexible, engaging ways. It can also take less time to complete than other regulated qualifications, meaning delegates are able to spend up to a quarter less time away from the workplace.

The qualification builds on Managing Safely, IOSH's tried-and-tested training course to equip supervisors and managers with the right knowledge and skills to evaluate safety systems, identify areas for improvement, implement control measures and reduce risk. Delegates must have completed this within the last three years.

Successful completion of this course enables delegates to apply for Associate or Technical IOSH membership giving access to these benefits and more:

- a global community of like-minded professionals leading positive change
- chance to enhance their knowledge with access to technical expertise
- opportunity to build their professional network and connections
- improved career prospects enabling them to maximise their potential.

Qualification outline and assessments

Each of the three units is assessed in a unique, more flexible way designed to test a range of soft skills vital to both delegates and their employers.

Unit 01

Safety and health management in an organisation

Focused on the value of workplace health and well-being, including health hazards, safety hazards, health assessment, global trends and good practice, including CPD.

Assessment

Delegates develop and write a business case to implement an enhanced safety and health management system within an organisation, putting theory into practice in a way relevant to all sectors, organisations and workplaces.

Unit 02

How to influence a safety and health culture within an organisation

Going beyond compliance, this unit gives insights into and teaches ways of delivering positive safety culture change, tackling behavioural and operational challenges to boost business performance and strengthen corporate governance.

Assessment

Delegates complete a project researching organisational health and safety culture, using primary and secondary research methods to collect data. They produce a report evaluating the existing safety culture and recommending an improvement plan.

Unit 03

A strategic, business-focused approach to safety and health

This unit explores organisations, their functions and how to effectively influence success. This includes topics such as accountability, ethics, compliance, managing uncertainty, and other long-term strategic megatrends affecting modern business.

Assessment

The delegate analyses the main functions and aims of an organisation, including how strategic drivers affect its operation, then develops and delivers a presentation they could use to brief a senior management team.

Trainer criteria and how to apply

All information and resources trainers need to deliver the course is included within our pricing. Training providers and trainers will need to meet the criteria below in order to offer this qualification.

To offer this IOSH qualification, training providers must:

- already be accredited by an awarding organisation for the delivery of regulated qualifications
- be an existing IOSH Training Provider, delivering Managing Safely
- have an Internal Quality Assurer (IQA), who is an employee and will be accountable and responsible for the Qualification quality assurance and assessment processes
- also have a Lead Trainer Assessor (LTA) who is an employee, meets the trainer criteria below and has experience of conducting assessments at level 3 in various styles to National Occupational Standards
- the IQA will be required to attend a pre-approval meeting or conference call with IOSH.

Their trainers must:

- be a Graduate Member of IOSH (minimum level) and CPD compliant
- be an approved IOSH trainer who has delivered and marked IOSH Managing Safely
- have significant business leadership experience or a business qualification at level 5 or equivalent
- have a minimum of three years' face-to-face training delivery experience
- have three years' practical health and safety experience.

As part of the application process, your Internal Quality Assurer will be required to attend a pre-approval meeting or conference call with IOSH and information provided to support applications will be verified, including by contacting third parties.

If you would like to enquire about offering IOSH Safety and Health for Business and you meet the requirements above, please email courses@iosh.com or call +44 (0)116 257 3605.

IOSH is the Chartered body for health and safety professionals. With over 47,000 members in more than 130 countries, we're the world's largest professional health and safety organisation.

We set standards, and support, develop and connect our members with resources, guidance, events and training. We're the voice of the profession, and campaign on issues that affect millions of working people.

IOSH was founded in 1945 and is a registered charity with international NGO status.

IOSH

The Grange
Highfield Drive
Wigston
Leicestershire
LE18 1NN
UK

t +44 (0)116 257 3100

f +44 (0)116 257 3101

www.iosh.com

 twitter.com/IOSH_tweets

 facebook.com/IOSHofficial

 tinyurl.com/IOSH-linkedin

 youtube.com/IOSHchannel

The IOSH-NCFE collaboration

IOSH Training and Skills has worked with global organisations and leading practitioners to develop this qualification and its course materials.

It collaborated with Ofqual-regulated awarding organisation NCFE to develop the NCFE IOSH Level 3 Certificate in Safety and Health for Business, which is regulated by Ofqual on the Regulated Qualifications Framework.

NCFE provides valuable support and experience of designing and developing qualifications for business.

Institution of Occupational Safety and Health
Founded 1945
Incorporated by Royal Charter 2003
Registered charity in England and Wales No. 1096790
Registered charity in Scotland No. SC043254